1. Introduction

Cox Green School is committed to ensuring the health and safety of its staff and the students in its care.

1.1 It recognises and accepts its duty to protect:

- Students from harm through unnecessary, inappropriate, excessive or unlawful force;
- Staff from harm from verbal and physical assault, including incidents involving students and parents.

1.2 The staff and Trustees are committed to:

- Encouraging and supporting parents/carers/ and working in partnership with them;
- Listening to and valuing each individual student;
- Ensuring that all members of staff, full time and part time are properly trained and supported.

The role of the trustees is to review and interrogate data and records kept by the school following incidents covered by this policy.

1.3 We are committed to the promotion of good behaviour and this forms the focus of our Behaviour and Suspension Policy.

1.4 This policy has due regard to all the relevant legislation including, but not limited to, the following:

- Education Act 2011;
- Children Act 1989;
- Equality Act 2010.

1.5 This policy has due regard to the following guidance:

- DfE (2013) 'Use of reasonable force in schools';
- DfE (2018) 'Working Together to Safeguard Children';
- Current DfE 'Keeping Children Safe in Education';
- HM Government (2019) 'Reducing the need for Restraint and Restrictive Intervention';
- DfE (2026) 'Restrictive Interventions, including the use of reasonable force in schools'

1.6 This policy operates in conjunction with the following school policies:

- Behaviour and Suspension Policy;
- Managing Allegations Against Staff Policy;
- Inclusion Policy;
- Complaints Policy;
- Staff Code of Conduct;
- Safeguarding Policy.

2. Purpose and Definitions

This policy acknowledges that members of school staff have a legal power to use reasonable force in certain circumstances to prevent or stop a pupil from:

- Causing injury to themselves or others;
- Committing a criminal offence;
- Damaging property;
- Causing disorder among pupils at the school.

2.1 The aim of this policy is to ensure that physical intervention is used in a correct and safe manner, which is in accordance with the relevant legislation and national guidance.

- 2.2 The term 'reasonable force' means using no more force than is necessary for the least amount of time, the application of which will depend on the circumstances.
- 2.3 'Reasonable force' can range from guiding a student to safety by the arm through to more extreme circumstances such as breaking up a fight or where a student needs to be restrained to prevent violence or injury.
- 2.4 There are three key types of reasonable force:
- 'Control' – non-disciplinary actions used in an attempt to direct a student's movements. This includes passive physical contact, e.g. standing between students or blocking a student's path, or active physical contact, e.g. leading a student out of a classroom by their arm;
 - 'Restraint' – non-disciplinary actions used in an attempt to physically bring a student under control/immobilise them. This type of force is typically used in more extreme circumstances, e.g. where two students are fighting and refuse to separate, causing staff to intervene to hold them back from one another physically. This may or may not involve direct physical contact. An example of non-physical restraint could be removing a pupil's crutches.
 - 'Seclusion' – a non-disciplinary intervention involving keeping a student confined to a place away from others, and preventing them from leaving either by physical obstruction, blocking, or making them believe they will be punished if they try to leave.
- 2.5 It is important to note that, in these definitions, 'non disciplinary' means actions taken in circumstances where they are needed to for the reasons detailed above. Placing a student in the internal reflection room or a room for a planned after school reflection is a disciplinary measure and therefore not included under this policy.
- 2.6 School staff should always try to avoid acting in a way that might cause injury, but in extreme cases it may not always be possible to avoid injuring the student.
- 2.7 As a school, we recognise that all behaviour is a form of communication and that we have a duty to understand what the children's behaviour communicates. This enables us to respond in a way that helps everyone to stay safe and value and respect each child.
- 2.8 The foundation of good practice in working with children should be:
- Protecting and promoting children's rights;
 - Recognising that staff have a responsibility to understand children's needs;
 - Building relationships of trust and understanding;
 - Understanding triggers and finding solutions;
 - If incidents do occur, knowing enough about the child and positive behaviour support techniques to defuse the situation and/or distract the child where possible;
 - Treated on an individual basis, making reasonable adjustments to ensure that expectations of students with SEND are developmentally appropriate and fair.

3. Screening and Searching Students

The school acknowledges its duties and responsibilities under the Education Acts, of 1996 and 2011, Education and Inspections Act, 2006 and Health and Safety at Work, 1974, in respect of screening and searching students.

3.1 Searching with the Student's Consent

Schools are not required to have formal written consent from the student for this sort of search – it is enough for staff to ask the student to turn out their pockets, or look in the student's bag, or through outer clothing when removed, or locker (in the student's presence) and for the student to consent.

- 3.1.1 Schools are not required to inform parents before a search takes place or to seek their consent to search their child. Where a student is not deemed to have sufficient maturity or understanding to be fit to give consent themselves, then consent will be sought from a parent.

3.2 Searching Without the Student's Consent

The Headteacher (and staff authorised by the Headteacher) has the statutory power to search a student or their possessions, without the student's consent, where there are reasonable grounds for suspecting that the student has certain prohibited items in their possession, or any item that is banned by the school which has been identified in the Behaviour and Exclusion Policy as an item to be searched for. When searching without consent, there should be two members of staff (of the same gender as the student being searched where possible) present at all times.

- 3.2.1 If the student refuses to be searched or have their belongings searched for suspected prohibited items, the school can ask the parents and/or the Police to carry out the search.
- 3.2.2 Schools are not required to inform parents before a search takes place or to seek their consent to search their child. The school will inform the student's parents where alcohol, illegal drugs or potentially harmful items or substances are found.

3.3 Other Issues Pertaining to Searches

Electronic devices, including mobile phones, can be searched and their data/files searched/erased if there is good reason to do so.

- 3.3.1 If a student refuses to be searched or have their belongings searched, this refusal will be treated as 'refusing to follow an instruction' and incur the appropriate sanction.
- 3.3.2 We will inform parents if banned or prohibited items are found as a result of a search.
- 3.3.3 There is a limited exception to this rule. A search of a student of the opposite sex can be carried out and without a witness present, if it is reasonably believed that there is a risk that serious harm will be caused to a person if the search was not conducted immediately and where it is not reasonably practicable to summon another member of staff.
- 3.3.4 In all cases of a search, the Search/Confiscation Form shown in Appendix 1 will be completed as soon as practically possible and passed to the Headteacher for signature before filing.

3.4 Confiscation

Students found in possession of prohibited items may face sanctions/exclusion from the school. Furthermore, any student found in possession of an offensive weapon and/or illegal drugs should expect Permanent Exclusion as a result.

- 3.4.1 Students who do not relinquish banned or prohibited items (including mobile phones) will not be allowed to return to normal lessons until the item in question has been confiscated. Students will remain in school during this time and will be isolated with an appropriate member of staff, in an appropriately supervised area.

3.5 With Consent Searches

The member of staff who has conducted a search for a prohibited or banned item, or an item which they consider harmful or detrimental to school discipline, can use their discretion to confiscate, retain and/or destroy any item found as a result of a 'with consent' search, as long as it is reasonable in the circumstances.

Where any item is thought to be a weapon, controlled drugs or a stolen item, it will be passed to the Police, unless there is good reason not to do so. The Headteacher will decide when, or if, to return other types of confiscated items, in line with the Education Act 2011.

3.6 Without Consent Searches

Teachers may seize anything that they have reasonable grounds for suspecting is a prohibited item or is evidence that relates to an offence. Any items that are seized will be retained/disposed of or delivered to the Police, in line with DfE guidance.

Table 1

- 3.7 Cox Green School has a duty to ensure that any confiscated item (especially those of monetary or emotional value) is stored safely until they can be returned. This also limits the chance of problems with loss of items while in the care of staff. All reasonable steps are taken to make such arrangements secure. Learning Walk can be used to collect confiscated items if required.

4. Reasonable Force

4.1 Who Can Use Reasonable Force?

All members of staff will be permitted to use reasonable force where they believe it to be appropriate in line with their training, as long as all necessary precautions are taken. The decision to physically intervene during a situation is down to the professional judgement of the member of staff and always depends on the circumstances and the student's individual needs.

4.2 The power to use reasonable force also applies to any individual whom the Headteacher has identified as temporarily in charge, such as volunteers.

4.3 The Headteacher will oversee any incident relating to the implementation of this policy. In the case of the Headteacher being absent, they will clearly identify who will deputise for this role.

4.4 All staff will be given a copy of this policy, including new staff at induction, and should expect to be reminded of the policy annually.

4.5 When Can Reasonable Force Be Used?

Reasonable force can be used to prevent students from hurting themselves or others, committing a criminal offence, from damaging property, or from causing disorder.

4.6 Schools can use reasonable force to:

- Remove disruptive children from the classroom where they have refused to follow an instruction to do so;
- Prevent a student behaving in a way that disrupts a school event or a school trip or visit;
- Prevent a student leaving the classroom where allowing the student to leave would risk their safety or lead to behaviour that disrupts the behaviour of others;
- Prevent a student from attacking a member of staff or another student, or to stop a fight in the playground; and
- Restrain a student at risk of harming themselves through physical outbursts.

4.7 The Use of Reasonable Force – Operational Procedures

Reasonable force should only ever be used as a last resort when other strategies have failed. It should serve to de-escalate or prevent a violent or potentially violent situation. It should not be used purely to force compliance with staff instructions when there is no immediate risk to people or property. Restraint will never be used routinely, either physical or non-force related restraint.

4.8 Our principles are that:

- Staff will build effective relationships with the children they are responsible for;
- Staff should take steps in advance to avoid the need for physical intervention by the adoption of a planned, proactive approach to behaviour management, e.g. through dialogue and diversion;
- Staff should only use restraint when there is no alternative to help children and staff to stay safe;
- Staff should have good grounds for believing that immediate action is necessary to prevent a student from significantly injuring themselves or others, or causing serious damage to property;
- Reasonable force must not be used in anger. When it becomes apparent that the student is not responding to verbal instructions and a violent incident is imminent, the member of staff, wherever possible, should call for assistance before engaging in physical intervention. Calling for support and assistance should not be considered as a personal failure, but could prove helpful in providing assistance, as well as having a witness to what happens;
- High numbers of staff involved in an incident should be avoided;

- When it becomes necessary to use reasonable force with a student, the member of staff should continue to talk to her in a calm manner, offering choices and time to calm;
- Only the minimum force necessary, to prevent physical injury or damage, should be applied. Particular care must be taken to avoid inflicting any unnecessary pain or Injury. Restraint that deliberately inflicts pain should never be used;
- When using reasonable force, members of staff have a responsibility to justify that means other than force have been attempted or are proving impracticable;
- Restraint should only be used for the shortest time possible;
- As soon as it is safe, the reasonable force should be gradually relaxed to allow the student to regain self-control;
- Intervention should be an act of care and control, not punishment;
- A student must never be asked to use reasonable force on another student;
- Staff must be able to show that the method of force was in keeping with the incident that gave rise to it and will need to record the event and the reason for their decision;
- The degree and duration of any force applied must be proportional to the circumstances;
- The potential for damage to persons and property in applying any form of force must always be kept in mind;
- Escalation should be avoided at all costs, especially if it would make the overall situation more destructive and/or unmanageable;
- Staff will help children to develop the skills they need to understand and respond constructively to their own feelings and behaviour.

4.9 Procedures Following an Incident Involving the Use of Reasonable Force

4.9.1 Recording of incidents:

All incidents of use of reasonable force, restraint and/or seclusion must be recorded as soon as practicable after the event, and no later than the same day. It should be recorded by the staff member involved with the support of the DSL, DSO or Headteacher's PA on the form in Appendix B.

The following details should be recorded about each incident:

- Names of students and staff directly involved;
- Relevant needs or circumstances of the student, including their SEN status code;
- Time, date, location and approximate duration of the intervention;
- Brief account of the incident, including type of reasonable force, restraint or seclusion used, degree of force and nature of any injuries sustained;
- Brief account of why the use of force, restraint or seclusion was assessed as necessary in that instance;
- Any post incident support put in place, such as medical treatment for injuries.

4.9.2 Reporting of incident:

Each incident of use of reasonable force, restraint and/or seclusion must be reported to the parents/carers of the student involved as soon as practicable after the incident, and no later than the same day. The only exception to this would be if it appears to the staff member that doing so would be likely to result in serious harm to the pupil.

A report of the incident must be made in writing to the parents and should include the following:

- Time, date, location and approximate duration of the intervention;
- Brief account of why the intervention was assessed as necessary in that instance;
- Brief account of what type of force, restraint or seclusion was applied and the degree of force;
- Details of any physical injuries sustained.

5. Complaints

Complaints about screening, searching or the use of reasonable force should be dealt with through the normal school complaints procedure. All complaints should be thoroughly, speedily and appropriately investigated.

- 5.1 Where a member of staff has acted within the law – that is, they have used reasonable force in order to prevent injury, damage to property or disorder – this will provide a defence to any criminal prosecution or other civil or public law action.
- 5.2 The Board of Trustees should always consider whether a teacher has acted within the law when reaching a decision on whether or not to take disciplinary action against the teacher.
- 5.3 Where a safeguarding allegation is made against a member of staff that involves physical contact, e.g. restraint, the strategy discussion or initially evaluation with the LADO will take in to account that teachers and other school staff are entitled to use reasonable force to control or restrain students in certain circumstances.

6. Students with SEND

The school will have due consideration to the risks posed by the additional vulnerability of students with SEND in terms of physical intervention and reasonable force.

- 6.1 The SENDCo will ensure that the stipulations of the Equality Act 2010 are adhered to in relation to reasonable adjustments, non-discrimination and the Public Sector Equality Duty, and will ensure that staff that come in to regular contact with students with SEND are aware of the ways in which their needs can be met without reasonable force. The school will adhere to its Inclusion (SEND) Policy at all times.

7. Communication of Policy

The Policy is published on the school website and the school staff intranet.

8. Review of Policy

This policy shall be reviewed every 3 years by the Leadership Team of Cox Green School.
