COX GREEN SCHOOL NEWSLETTER

Dear Parents and Carers,

We are very proud of Year 7 for all their hard work and effort for the Halloween Doors competition! Congratulations to 7HA, who were the winners!

We will be holding our Remembrance Service at the school on Friday 6th November, during period 2. Students will be required to wear their full school uniform (including blazers) for the service, and Sixth Form students should wear smart business attire.

Now the students have settled into the new academic year, we would ask that all parents do take a moment to review Edulink and check that the information that we hold is up to date. This is especially important to check that your child's emergency contacts and also ensure that their medical information is still correct.

Thank you to all of our students' families for your support and commitment to the school this term. I would like to wish you all a wonderful half term holiday, and we look forward to seeing you on Tuesday 3rd November, when the school re-opens for all year groups.

The Art of Debating

Mondays, Week 1 and Week 2
3pm - 4pm
Miss Leary

This week with the Eton College debating exchange, the session kicked off with recalling the fundamentals of debating. This week's motion by popular choice was "This House Believes voting should be made compulsory".

Of the 14 Cox Green students present, half prepared the affirmative and then half prepared the negative. Half way through the session, our experienced Year 13 debaters, Zoe Richard and Jessica Porter, presented a show debate for and against the motion that demonstrated the establishment of a thesis; why it is true, and why it is important arguing two points each in their speeches and including rebuttal.

The floor was then thrown up for other debaters to present, with the prepared arguments they had mustered.

It was an excellent opportunity for students to gain confidence in their debating without it being a fully formal debate.

The formal session will take place in their upcoming meetings, which we all look forward to next half term!

WHAT WE DID THIS WEEK

Sixth Form

From the 12th - 15th October, the Year 13 Geography class spent a week completing fieldwork in Pembrokeshire, Wales, with Miss Richardson and Mr Bali. After a long 6-hour drive, the first day consisted of measuring the gradient of Broad Haven Beach, before crashing at the accommodation for a well-needed rest.

On the second day, after measuring sand dune gradients, the class spent time completing human fieldwork interviews with the local population of Temby, before eating a much-anticipated Domino's. The class finished the day with free time at the gorgeous Barafundle Bay Beach, where some of the students took an impromptu walk to see the arch.

On the Wednesday, we began at Freshwater West, where more sand dune gradients were measured, but the highlight of the beach was the 'Grave of Dobby' (from the Harry Potter books), with many socks and painted rocks commemorating it. Many races down sand dunes were encountered, with some sandy faces occurring. Later in the day, the last human fieldwork was finished, with more interviews being carried out in St. David's, the smallest city in the United Kingdom, with ice cream topping off the experience. The trip was completed with a walk through the fresh air along the coast, with many students enjoying a rope swing along the way.

This trip was enjoyed by all, with much knowledge being taken home to support our Geography course.
